The enclosed wedding certificate confirms the marriage of my maternal grand parents – Mary Webster and John Fuller, who were married March 30th 1848 (one hundred years ago) at the Friends' Meeting House, Uxbridge.

Mary Webster, my grandmother, was born on Sunny Acres Farm, on the Kingston Road (now #2 highway) between Pickering and Whitby. This farm was owned by the family for over a hundred years, the descendants celebrated the Centenary in 1920.

John Fuller was born in Holt, Norfolk County, England 1810. In 1833 he came to Canada, bringing his mother, sister and brother with him. He landed in Montreal. There his first piece of work was making shutters for Notre Dame Cathedral (he being a carpenter) He worked his way west stopping at Lachine, Bytown (now Ottawa), Prescott, Oshawa and Hog's Hollow (near Toronto). It has been said that most of the houses of that day along the Kingston Road were built by him. He established his home at Duffin's Creek (now Pickering) and there he took his bride in 1848.

In 1856 the home at Pickering was sold and John Fuller and his wife and three small children moved to London. For the first month they stayed at the hotel at the corner of Clarence and Dundas Sts. I think it was called the Carter Hotel then, but is now the Higgin's Block where Cairncross and Lawrence's store is. Then they moved to London West near where Empress Ave. church is now located. He soon bought a farm in London Township – Lot 26 – 8th Concession. This was at the time of the Russian War. In 1857 a frost came on the 10th of June and the hay, wheat and potatoes were all frozen. Food and all necessities became very expensive and living was hard. The family grew and the children married and established homes of their own.

William Fuller (the eldest) married Ann West and most of their family still live in or near London.

William J. Fuller – market gardener, east of London
Fred G. Fuller – Riverside Drive, London
Carling W. Fuller - Riverside Drive, London
Dr. E.W. Fuller - Windsor Ave. London
Mrs. Chester West – Lorne Ave. London
Ernest L. Fuller – deceased, Edmonton

Joseph Fuller, married Charlotte Lord and moved to British Columbia a few years later, three of their children still live in British Columbia, one was buried in Scotland following the first Great War and a daughter died during the flu epidemic.

Mary Fuller (the only daughter) married Thomas Ball and went to live on his farm in Caradoc Township, but in 1903 they moved to London so that they might have a better opportunity to educate their family. Their children are –

Thomas Melville Ball – Saskatoon, Sask.
John W. Ball – Burlington, Ont.
Mrs. William Dingwall - Hopeville, Ont.
Mrs. J.D. Mills – Campbellford, Ont.
Miss Marie Ball – London, Ont.
Mrs. C.M. Miners – deceased, formerly of Saskatoon, Sask.

With the death of Mrs. Ball, Apr. 9, 1948, the old home in London will be no more as far as the Ball descendants are concerned.

Lillian,

I have acknowledged the enclosed document. I think after it is noted in our gift book it should be placed in an envelope and put with the Quaker material in the [T.R.].

London, Ont.

Dear Dr. Landon:

Confirming our conversation of a few weeks ago I am now enclosing the original Marriage Certificate of my maternal grandparents – Mary Webster and John Fuller. The Quaker Ceremony and Certificate of that day seems quaint.

As you suggested I am enclosing a few facts about them and their descendants.

We are glad you are going to preserve this document. Some day we hope we will be able to see it in the Library, if that is permissible.

Yours very truly,

On behalf of the descendants of Mary Webster and John Fuller

Marie Ball
(a granddaughter)
